Poisoned Husband at Suggestion of Rev. Hight.

PLANNED TO WED

Mrs. Sweetin's Confession Confirms that of Minister—12 Hours of Grilling Was Necessary.

Associated Press.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Sept. 23. —After an all night vigil, Mrs. Elsie Sweeting confessed this morning that she was implicated with the Rev. Lawrence Hight in a plot to poison her husband and Mrs. Hight so that she and the minister might marry, thus confirming the second confession made yesterday by the pastor.

Arrested yesterday at her home at Ina, Mrs. Sweetin denied any connection with the poison plot as admitted by the Rev. Hight but broke down today after being closeted in the same cell with the minister and with State's Attorney Thompson.

The suggestion of poisoning her husband was first made by the pastor, she asserted. She was horrified, her confession stated, but was later persuaded to administer the poison three different times. Mrs. Sweetin is worn and haggard after the twelve hours' grilling.

Bogus Prescription for Booze Fails to Work

The latest scheme for obtaining prescription whiskey has resulted in failure.

A charge of forgery has been placed against C. C. Fletcher, who is reported to have written prescriptions for whiskey bearing what purported to be signatures of Dr. Frank Quesner and Dr. T. H. Curd.

According to officers, he presented the bogus prescriptions to a Pineville druggist yesterday who, familiar with the signature of one of the physicians, detected the forgery and reported the matter to officers. Middlesboro police officers arrested the man upon his arrival here. The defendant waived preliminary examination and was committed for grand

NEED FIFTEEN MILLION FOR FLEET REPAIR

Engineers Make Announcement of Needs.

WORK CURTAILED

Alterations Not Too Far Advanced Ordered Discontinued—Deterioration is Problem.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 —Announcement at the Navy Department that the battleship Florida would be placed in "reserve" and that the proposed winter cruise to Australia might be abandoned, has again brought to the front in service circles the serious consequences of curtailed funds for upkeep of the ships.

Already working under general orders which limit repairs to 70 percent of recommended programs, bureau chiefs in Washington recently have held continued conferences in the effort to work out some plan by which vital work on the principal units of the fleet can be accomplished despite the shortage of funds. "Accumulation" is the nightmare which haunts grey old seadogs who love their ships. In the intimacies of club and office they are making mathematical computations to show that a ship would be only 49 per cent efficient after a second visit to her home yard, and 35 percent upon the third departure.

Curtailed repairs are declared by members of the engineering staff already to be apparent in the operation of the fleet, one estimate being that $15,000,000 would be required to bring that force to its proper rating.

A radio dispatch bearing on the subject was recently sent to all ships and stations. Calling attention to the "inadequacy of funds," the department announced that "no alterations will be undertaken upon any ship until further instructions," unless a bureau had made provisions from a special appropriation.

"Alterations under way will be discontinued," the orders added, "unless too far advanced to make stoppage uneconomical."

While a limit of 70 percent apparently has been laid upon repair work, instances are cited in which ships have been withdrawn from their ways with only 30 or 40 percent of the scedulled work completed. Further additions to the reserve list are declared to be in prospect as the fiscal year grows older.

KENTUCKY DUBBED GOVERNORS' HOME

Blue Grass State Has Furnished Gubernatorial Timber for Many States.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 23. — Virginia may be the mother of presidents but Kentucky is the mother of governors, according to Frank K. Kavanaugh, assistant state librarian, whose hobby is history.

"To be exact, Kentucky has given 108 governors to 28 Commonwealths or territories," he said today, following a study of Kentucky, as "a mother of governors."

More sons of Kentucky have occupied the gubernatorial chair of Missouri than of any other, he said. Ten Kentuckians have occupied the executive offices of that state.

"There can be but one major conclusion concerning Kentuckians who have governed other states," he said, detailing a list of executives. "They broadly speaking, accepted Horace Greely's advice, "Go West, young man; go West."

"Except in recent years Kentuckians, as a rule have eschewed the East. No son of this state, as far as I can ascertain, has yet been elected governor of any of the New England states. They have seldom steered southward, No Kentuckian, I believe, has ever been chosen executive of Georgia, South or North Carolina or West Virginia.

"No Kentuckian has occupied the gubernatorial chair of Wyoming, Alaska, Hawaii, North or South Dakota, Nevada, Porto Rico, Whashington, or California."

They have been governors of all other states, he said.

Mr. Kavanaugh suggested placing the 108 names on a long bronze tablet mounted on the walls of the new capitol.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT there is quite a difference between promises and performances.

That every city has a large number of good promisers.

That every city has men of business acumen, foresight and aggressive efficiency who are handicapped in their work of city-building by the good promisers who fail to co-operate in time of need.

THAT cold facts are stubborn things a whole lot of men hate to look them in the face.

THAT some men who don't believe in a Chamber of Commerce should have a good sized firecracker set off under their easy chair, it might wake them up for a minute. Who can tell, they might like being awake, it would be something new for them.

THAT the membership of the Chamber of Commerce consists of the most aggressive business men. They don't need any fireworks to wake them up, they are live ones and wide awake.

THAT often when some civic slackers find things going wrong in their home city, they immediately get busy and try to blame it on some other fellows who have worked while they have slept.

THAT it takes a confident, optimistic public spirit to pervade a community to bring development.

A steady unwavering confidence in the resources of the Home City and the Citizens' ability to utilize them to the utmost has done more to achieve eminence than any other factor used in its growth.

Where there are periods of disharmony and differences of opinion concerning community interests, strong methods

SETTLE STATUS IN PALESTINE

Americans Accorded Privileges In Holy Land—Status May Be Changed.

By Associated Press.

JERUSALEM, Sept., 23.—Citizens of the United States living in Palestine are accorded the privileges over and above those of citizens and subjects of states who are members of the League of Nations. This is true now pending American ratification of the British mandate for Palestine, but will probably cease to be the case after the United States government will have the convention recognizing the mandate. The convention, it is believed will secure for Americans in Palestine the same rights as fall to subjects of state who are League members, but no more. The status of Americans in Palestine will then probably be the same as in Syria, to the French mandate for which the United States was reported recently to have agreed.

For the present Americans here enjoy the rights of capitulations which before the dismemberment of the Turkish empire, all great powers insisted on maintaining for their citizens. America has not renounced its capitulatory rights in Palestine, and the American consul is the only one holding court and trying cases between American residents.

The proposition of the American consular court in Jerusalem is a little vague, because it runs parallel with the British system of justice now in force. The British government, however, is not known to have raised any objection to the existence of the consular court.

The Palestine authorities have even gone out of their way to effect judgements made by the consular court. An American sentenced to prison by the consular court may be locked up in a Palestine jail.

United States Consul Oscar S. Heizer, having received no instructions to the contrary, continues to sit in judgment over American residents who get into trouble, but he is not sure how long this condition will continue.

New Assessment Date Presents Difficulties

Considerable difficulty in getting adequate assessments for the coming year will likely be encountered by the assessor when he begins the work October 1, in accordance with the city ordinance which passed the first reading yesterday.

It has heretofore been comparatively easy to get assessments of mercantile stocks during the early part of the year, the figures being based mainly on January 1 inventory. No inventory having been taken for nine months, the work of making adequate assessments presents almost insurmountable difficulties.

The city ordinance making the assessment dates three months earlier conforms to Kentucky statutes governing cities of the third class.

MR. SHAVER AND THE "DUTCH"

In a statement given out in New York Saturday, Chairman Clem Shaver of the Democratic National Committee said "Were the election conducted today, LaFollette would have achieved his ambition to throw it into the Congress. Yes, were the presidential election conducted today, neither Davis nor Coolidge nor LaFollette could count a majority vote in the electoral college." Amplyfying on his statement, Mr. Shaver went on to say, "The Germans are grateful to Senator LaFollette for his attitude during the world war. They believe in the policies he is advocating, generally."

While Mr. Shaver was giving out his political prophecy in New York, the Cincinnati Enquirer conducted its first daily "straw vote" canvass among the Germans of Cincinnati. The German vote in the northwest and other German centers is mostly Republican. Mr. Shaver knows this and his prophecy is father to his wishing that they vote for Mr. LaFollette. However, the first Cincinnati canvass shows the "Dutch" standing by the Republican ticket with pristine enthusiasm. The Coolidge-Dawes ticket has more votes than all other candidates combined. The Cincinnati poll runs about the same as the Literary Digest poll of a week ago, which was made in five pivotal states.

Mr. Shaver should know, and no doubt does know, that Mr. LaFollette has always had a strong following of Irish Democrats in Wisconsin—because Mr. LaFollette has always stood well with the Irish Democrats in that state. No doubt the senior Wisconsin senator will lose a substantial part of the Irish Democrat vote in that state in the coming election—for Mr. Davis also stands well with the Irish Democrats. Also no doubt Mr. LaFollette will receive substantial support from the Germans in Wisconsin—about the same proportion he will receive from the Republicans of other nationalities.

But there is nothing in the Teutonic make up as a whole that will draw them to Mr. LaFollette. Your German stands for government. In 1861, the fathers and grandfathers of the men who Mr. Shaver says are being traduced by Mr. LaFollette, were strong for the government. They were among the first to respond to arms when Lincoln issued his immortal call for 75,000 men to restore the Stars and Stripes over Sumpter, the sons and gransons of the men who followed Franz Sigel and Carl Schurz will not be found voting with the party that proposes to overthrow the constitution of the United States. The German-American vote will be Republican as it always has. It will be there in substantial numbers even in Wisconsin—the primary vote there proved that Mr. LaFollette will not have it all his own way, even in his home state.

Mr. Shaver will not pass a good examination in American history if he decides to turn to teaching after he retires to the shade with his illustrious predecessor "Honest" George White of Marietta, Ohio.

Prehistoric Animal Remains in Brazil

Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 1 — Laborers doing excavating work in the suburb of Vicente Lopez, just outside the city limits of Buenos Aires, have discovered a rich deposit of fossil remains of the beasts who used to inhabit this part of South America in prediluvian ages. The head of a glyptodon, the predecessor of the armadillo, together with dorsal and thigh bones, were among the finds, which included also bones of a prehistoric tiger.

The glyptodon skull is not of the giant species, but the paleontologists of the National Museum of Natural History, who are conducting the excavating work, consider it as one of the finest examples yet discovered being almost completely preserved, including nearly all the teeth.

GAMING HALL CONVERTED TO CHURCH HOUSE

Methodist Tabernacle Made From Bad Resort.

"PROVIDENCE ACT"

Timbers Bear Marks of Bullets Fired in Old Days—Altar Rail Formerly of Saloon Bar.

Associated Press

DURANGO, Colo., Sept 23 The old Greek saying "out of bad wood good smoke sometimes comes" was applied here when a "community tabernacle" and its parsonage were built out of timbers and material taken from a once notorious gambling resort and dance hall and from an erstwhile brewery.

The tabernacle, built by the Pere Methodist church, was recently dedicated. Its altar rail was made out of part of the bar against which lumberjacks, miners, cowpunchers, Mexicans and gamblers of 10 years ago used to lean. The bar footrail was converted into the handrail of the steps leading into the church. A Bible now rests on the polished walnut where the liquor of the early days was placed, for the top of the bar has become the pulpit. The altar was constructed from other parts of the bar.

The church rests on a foundation of stone, heavy timbers and iron beams taken from both the dance hall and the brewery. The window sills and lobes were made from the heavy oak bottoms of huge beer vats.

The building occupies the site of the former brewery. It is situated at the foot of a bluff and is overlooked by the parsonage of the presiding elder of the district. The parsonage once was the office of the brewery and has been made into a modern cottage. It is planned to terrace the bluff and to build winding stairs from the elder's home to the house of worship, using as a hand-rail a coil formerly utilized in making beer.

The two steps that lead to the entrance of the tabernacle were formed of timbers taken from the dance hall. One of the boards carries a bullet fired from a .45 evidence of one of the many shooting scrapes that enlivened the old resort. The heavy timbers comprising the supporting columns and the roof beams were taken from the dance hall. The church seats 700.

"I think," said Rev. F. F. Stewart, the presiding elder who conceived the idea, "that it was in the nature of an act of Providence that we were able to convert these places of disrepute into a house of worship."

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

By Hary B. Hunt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The usual official story is that secretary of the Navy, Wilbur was called back from the Pacific Coast vacation to stop naval officers' complaints of the predicted ruin of the navy, due to cuts by the budget bureau in their estimate of the money needed to keep it going during the coming fiscal year.

On the "inside" it's whispered that President Coolidge blames Wilbur himself for not stopping this kind of talk sooner.

They say the presidents called him on the carpet on account of it. It must have been a strong call, too, for the secretary came running.

Wilbur didn't out and out criticize the budget cuts. But he did make some speeches emphasizing the country's need of a strong navy. And he did it just at a moment when his subordinates were doing plenty of criticizing. The impression gave was that he sympathized with them.

If there's one thing, more than any other, that the president counts on to help him at the coming election, it's his reputation as a money saver.

The budget cuts, coming just now if given the right kind of publicity, ought to strengthen him immensely, his campaign managers think. But it isn't the right kind of publicity to have them held up to the people as ruinous to such things as the navy.

All the more irritating, this isn't being done by the president's political opponents. The talk comes out of a department which an appointee of his own is head and is supposed to be able to manage.

He hasn't done it, so far as all this navy budget gossip is concerned, and there's a good reason to believe reports that he let himself in for a severe reprimand.

Even though the president is angry enough, maybe, to let his secretary out of the cabinet, informally he won't do it at the present time.

It wouldn't look well in campaign time.

In fact, it never looks well. It's all right for a cabinet member to resign on account of ill health, because he has personal interests which demand his attention, to accept another appointment, as to the Supreme Court, or to run for the Senate, for instance. But a cabinet dismissal, or what amounts to one is no favorable advertisement for any administration.

But a president who is re-elected may reorganize his cabinet without in the least embarrasing himself politically. And that, politicians are betting is what Coolidge will do and do drastically, if he gets in again.

The president, as all know, took over the official family Harding left to him. He couldn't very well make changes in it and carry out his announced intention of continuing his predecessor's policies which seemed to be good politics for him to promises to stick to.

However, it's no secret that Coolidge has ideas quite different from Harding's. That was proved conclusively by the thoroughness with which the Republican's old manager stepped out, directly after Coolidge nomination, Cleveland, in favor of the more progressive wing group.

That was the psychological moment for changing party management.

Next March will be the psychological moment for changing cabinets—if Coolidge is elected.

Attorney General Stone and Secretary of the Navy Wilbur were Coolidge selections. The former—assuming a continuation of the Coolidge regime—may stay on. If any of the other cabinet members do it will surprise Washington.

MAKE MAPS OF OIL- GAS AREAS

State Geological Bodies to Provide Adequate Data for Prospectors.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 23.—The Kentucky Geological Survey has been engaged in base or geological mapping of 30 counties during the field season which began June 1 and closes October 1, according to Dr. Willard Rouse Jillson, director.

This area, equivalent to 25 per cent of the state, is now shown down to the smallest details, depicting in blue print form, every house, dwelling, village, town, road and stream, improved pikes, pipe lines for oil and gas. These reconnaissance maps are on file in the department here.

The survey also has perpared aerial maps of Hopkins, Perry and Woodford counties and a topographic map of Muhlanberg county. Oil and gas structural works done in the northern part of Jackson, southern part of Estill and southeastern part of Madison, and northern Rockcastle counties, are shown.

Aerial geology, the mapping of different soil formations, is now being engaged in by fieldmen in Jessamine county, Dr. Jillson said today.

Oil and gas structural work is in progress in Elliott, Lawrence, and Jackson counties, a record picture on his desk revealed.

This has been the most active field season that the survey has had since his foundation in 1857," he said. More territory has been covered, more detailed investigations have been made looking forward development of resources of the state than any other time."

This aid to development of natural and mineral resources is the motive behind the work, he explained.

Lewis, Robertson, Nicholas, Bullett, Hardin, LaRue, Hancock, McCreary, Pulaski Casey, McLean, Russell, Adair, Simpson, Logan and Todd counties have been mapped lately, he said.

In the reconnainssance maps all oil and gas wells, quarries, coal mines, mineral pits and the like are shown.

"This territory never before has been mapped," he said. "It has been like a wilderness of Africa.

"The maps will be an aid to operators, natives and foreign business men for development."

Water Cave In Utah Baffles Explorers

Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 23 — Exploration of a large unnamed cave near Navajo lake, southern Utah, has been begun by a party of Cedar City residents. Recently five men, wading in water sometimes three feet deep, penetrated the cave for 300 feet, but they were forced out by lack of oxygen.

The entrance, about five feet in diameter, was discovered several years ago. Just how far back the cave runs could not be determined by those in the exploration party, but in some places inside it was 50 feet from the floor to the roof. When more suitable equipment is received a more thorough survey is planned.

CHINESE CLAMOR FOR EDUCATIONS

Girls Showing Unprecedented Desire for Education—More Schools are Needed.

Associated Press

LECHOW, Shantung, Sept. —An unprecedented desire for education for girls is being shown throughout the western districts of Shantung. For perhaps the last ten years there have been government girls' schools in a few cities of this region, but they have not been popular and the enrollments have not been large.

Of late a distinct change has taken place. The villagers are clamoring for schools, and particularly for schools to impart western learning, geography, arithmetic, drawing, athletics and other branches hitherto unknown to the Chinese pupils and especially girls.

A feature of the movement is a certain social service phase which it has assumed. Many girls who have been in school during the winter go to their homes for the summer and open schools for less fortunate girls. Boys too are working along the same line and in some instances where unable to get enough boy pupils they have admitted girls. Thus education is being introduced, an unheard-of mark of progress in these interior places.

Oriental Opium Smokers Put On Rations

Associated Press

SINGAPORE, Sept. 1 —The use of prepared opium in Malay has diminished in recent years, and its eventual elimination depends on individual control, says the report of a committee appointed to enquire into the matter. It is stated that registration of smokers should be given an exhaustive trial leading up to a rationing system.

The committee expresses gratification "In finding that the disease is not so desperate as to demand desperate remedies," and adds that precipitate suppression affords no solution and would introduce complications in the ultimate eradication of the habit.

"Do Zeppelin Mailing Early" Is Advice Now

FRIDRICHSAFEN, Sept. 23. — German air post stamps for mail to be sent to the United States on the ZR3 have been going like hot cakes here lately, the government post office department having given notice weeks ago that "it would be wise to do your Zeppelin mailing early."

Stamp collectors were hopeful that special stamps would be issued for the trip, but the department did not do so, advising customers to use the ordinary air post stamps. Letters cost one mark, 24 cents, and post cards 12 cents.

Miracles Stumbling Block to Scientists

Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. — "The conflict between science and religion is still far from being reconciled," said Very Rev. W. R. Inge, the "gloomy Dean of St Paul's," in his presidential address at the Conference of Modern Churchmen, Oxford.

"It is an open sore," continued Dean Inge, "that poisons the spiritual life of the civilized world. It is difficult for a man to accept orthodox Christianity, as it is presented by the churches, without treachery to his scientific conscience.

"The question of miracles is for many the meeting of the conflict between religion and science."

MOLD CHILDREN TO COMMUNISM

Federation School Teachers In Paris Decides to Teach Revolutionary Ideas.

Associated Press

PARIS, Sept. —The United Federation of School Teachers of France, in session in this city, has resolved that school children be taught revolutionary principles. In the discussion that preceded the vote different orators declared that teachers should take matters in their own hands and begin their class strife propaganda with the little ones, discarding old text books, and "bringing the children to understand that modern society is filled with the germs of injustice."

The federation comprises about 8,000 teachers who previously belonged to the federation which affiliated with the French Federation of Labor, and which separated from that body when the Communists split with the Socialist Party.

The ranks of the Communist teachers will be considerably swelled if the amnesty bill passed by the Chamber is adopted by the Senate. This bill reinstates teachers who have been dismissed for subversive action, or for any other reason, and provides for their promotion to posts they would in the ordinary course have reached had they not been dismissed.

Study Methods to Increase Driving

BERLIN, Sept. —In all of Germany, which is somewhat larger than the state of California, there is not a single parking space for automobiles. This fact came to light as a result of an investigation to determine the condition of the motor industry in the country. Police regulations do not permit automobiles to stand in the streets unless attended by the driver, and even then for only a short time.

Miniature City to Be Destroyed at International Air Races October 2.

By Associated Press

DAYTON, Sept, 23—A slice of lower Manhattan's well known skyline is rising in miniature in this middle western city Shortly will be seen the towering heights of the Woolworth building, and the imposing heights of the Equitable, the Singer and the Municipal Buildings plumped right down in the middle of a cornfield

Then, after all is fixed and made to look like the real thing, along will swoop airplanes and bomb it into splinters.

That will be one of the stunts arranged for the spectators at the International Air Races here Oct 2, 3 and 4 The model city is being erected at Wilbur Wright Field where the races will be held, and will cover an area of 2,000 feet The buildings which are being constructed now, will be built in proportion, however The highest will tower some 100 feet The idea behind the stunt is to show graphically what would happen if enemy airplanes bombed New York.

The show will have many features of real warfare But in order that no one run any danger of injury, the structures are going up a mile from the grand stand

WELCOMING THE DAWN
Christian Science Monitor

I wake at dawn to grateful chirping of the birds.
And straightway blend my voice with theirs in praise.
And as a little child with arms outstretched
To greet the sun,
So I stretch mine
In fervent longing for the breaking light.

Leaving behind me darkness and the tears ofnight.
I step across the threshold of dawn's portal dim.
And see the light is here, the morn has come.
With promises untold of strength and deed.
Like a wide ocean, all before me lies
A day of tireless work, with ward peace well blessed.

Great tenderness is hid within the hush of dawn.
As quitely it opens wide the gate to lead me forth
From night into the fullness of the day!

Katherine Aagaard.

Simplest Of Lines

With an elaborate velvet brocaded material such as is employed for this gown, you need only the simplest and least complicated lines. The simple square neckline is outlined by a satin band, one end of which is allowed to hang free and is tasseled. The cuffs of the original sleeves are also of satin. A deep fringe finishes the hem.

Successful Rehearsal of Choral Society

Last night there was another very fine and successful rehearsal of the Middlesboro Choral society of 25 of its members present. There were three new members, Miss Charline Gagle Ed and Harry Hoe.

These rehearsals are gaining in interest and musical worth whileness each week, and the new members that are being added each week, after each rehearsal wonder why they did not join long ago since they realize, after attending the rehearsals, how much they have missed by not being present.

It is desired that every one in Middlesboro who can sing, join this organization, both for the good they derive themselves, and for the upbuilding of a large choral society under such a very competent director.

"HOW TO GET RID OF SIN" IS THEME

Dr. McKee Preached Potent Sermon on "The Home" At Service Last Night.

How to Get Rid of Sin" will be the subject of Dr. J. L. McKee's sermon tonight at the Presbyterian Church revival services. These services are arousing more and more interest in the city daily and they are being extensively attended by persons from every church in town. Miss Mary Dan Harbeson sings each night and the beauty of her voice, the expression that she puts into her singing are a very great part in bringing people out to the meetings.

Dr McKee spoke last night on "The Home," using the ten commandments as a basis for his discourse. He declared that the fifth commandment, dealing with the home, 'Honor thy father and thy mother,' was the pivotal point of the ten, the one which joined the instructions for religious observance with those for moral conduct. He spoke on the training of children, the importance of their having good birth, good environment, and a good education. In this last point Dr. McKee brought out the point that the child should be educated, not only to know, but to act and to be. Miss Harbeson sang "The Ninety and Nine" and "Tell Mother I'll Be There" at the service last night.

CAVE MAY LEAD TO BURIED CITY

Pages of Past Read in Hieroglyphics and Relics of Nevada Cavern.

Associated Press

ELY, Nev., Sept. —Scientists of the University of Nevada, in an exploration party headed by Governor J. G. Scrugham, recently have read again the pages of the past in caverns near the famed Lehman Caves and found them rich in archaeological lore.

Figuring found on the rock wall of a cavern, said to be undoubtedly Aztec, leads Dr. E. P. Schappelle, archaeologist of the university, to believe the discovery one of the most important in recent years. The finding of pottery in the caves also moves the pottery line about 500 miles further north than any ever before found.

Dr. Schappelle and Dr. Peter Frandsen, biologists have employed six men to assist in the work of excavating. The party found it difficult in places to discern the hieroglyphics, as cloudbursts had washed much debris into the caverns. Hieroglyphics resembling both Aztec and Egyptian work have been found and members of party are optimistic in predicting that a veritable city will be discovered underground.

A strong flow of water was discovered 90 feet below the level of Baker creek, and live angleworms were found at a depth of 100 feet. A burial cave with an opening four by six feet at the surface, leading to a large underground room, containing five human skeletons, the bones badly disintegrated due to extreme age.

Philippine Trade Gains

Associated Press.

MANILA, Sept. —The foreign trade of the Phillippine Islands for the first half of 1924 amounted to $125,265,000, against $108,586,000 for the same period in 1923, according to figures made public by the bureau of customs. The exports during the first six months of this year were $75,912,000 and the imports $49,349,000, leaving a balance in favor of the islands of approximately $26,562,000.

She's Had Thrills Enough

Gloria Faure, a granddaughter of a former president of France, has changed her mind about entering the movies. She left her home in Mexico City for Hollywood, but got as far as Vera Cruz. There she became mixed up in the de la Huerta revolution, serving as secretary to one of the rebel leaders. When the insurrection was broken up she was forced to flee to the United States. But now she's going home under an amnesty proclamation issued by President Obregon.

Bobbed Hair is Doomed, Beauty Specialists Say

Is bobbed hair doomed?

Yes, chorus beauty specialists, the bob was merely a passing whim. Miss Katherine Evans, proprietress of Milady Beauty Shoppe, says the tendency now in the larger cities is for long hair, but that the tide has not fully turned from shorn locks in Middlesboro yet. She is of the opinion, however, that Middlesboro women will fall in line with the prevailing custom and allow their hair to be the adornment that Nature doubtless intended it to be.

"I cut my hair three years ago," said a young business woman yesterday. "I thought I'd save a dreadful lot of time. But, gracious my, 'King Tut' cut means oodles of bother and hair-dressing expenses, far more than my old coiffure cost.'

"And bobing does destroy a girl's personality," chimed in her companion. 'You look like every other girl at dances, the theatre, parties. We all look like orphan asylum inmates. No individuality. Yes, I'm letting mine grow again."

Anyway —

You may be as beautiful as Helen of Troy or as shapely as Venus, but you'll probably never win a national beauty contest if you have bobbed hair!

To judge from the recent happenings at Atlantic City, where the fairest of the fair from more than ninety American cities assembled to compete for the honor of being named 'Miss America," the girls with the shingle or boyish bob did not have a chance.

True! There were a number of girls at the contest whose locks were attractively clipped —but they disappeared in the first elimination and were never heard of again.

And when you asked one of the Atlantic City beauty judges why? he replied:

That beauty of face and figure and personality are the main requisites of the judges, but girls with bobs lack that essential individuality which was needed to make them stand out from the crowd and the girls with the long locks immediately drew the admiring glances.

Bobbed hair is not passe by any means! Some girls will cut their hair for years to come. And some married women. But the trend of fashion is toward long hair again — with the aid of 'transformation" and the alluring bandeau and hair net, until nature reasserts itself.

"Every girl," declared the beauty specialist, "should study her personality in the mirror. If she can make herself distinctive, strikingly attractive and vibrant with personality —by means of long hair —she is foolish to submit to the scissors every two weeks."

PASSPORT FEES DAILY $12,000

Averaged 1,200 to 1,400 Daily During June and July—Issued In Capital.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The passport business has been a flourishing one for Uncle Sam this summer. It has strengthened the claim of attaches of the Division of Passport Control of the State Department that their is the one unit of the department that pays for itself. During the months of May, June, July, passport applications averaged between 1,200 and 1,400 a day. Figures for August are not yet complete.

The great majority of the passports are written in Washington, only a few emergency ones being issued in the field. The abnormal rush this year was occasioned by certain conventions abroad, and the competition among steamship lines to secure traffic by offering lower passenger rates.

All the countries of Europe, save Belgium, Switzerland and Holland, require vises for which a charge of $10 is made, and must be obtained by the visitor before entering the country. The Irish Free State has been the latest country to fallin line and asks the customary "ten spot" from sojourners in the Emerald Isle. Uncle Sam started charging a $10 fee for issuing passports in July 1920.

Although no passport or vise is officially required of Americans traveling to Mexico, Canada or Cuba, the State Department gets numerous applications for them, as a protestion.

A passport is valid for one year and is subject to renewal for another 12 months at the end of that period. Americans traveling abroad may get new passports by applying to American Consular offices.

Rome Loses Dispute With Authorities

Associated Press

ROME, Sept. —The imposing but age worn square in front of St. Peter's is at last to be newly paved and overhauled as part of the dressing-up process in anticipation of Holy Year, 1925, but only after more than 50 years of disagreement as to whether the expense should be borne by the Vatican or the municipality of Rome. The city has finally made the necessary appropriations, and work has already been begun.

The square, one of the show places of Rome, has been in need of repair almost ever since the temporal power of the papacy was overthrown in 1870, but until now the city has refused to supply funds because it was argued that, since it formed an integral part of the cathedral and Vatican grounds, the expense should be borne by the church. The church authorities retorted that it was one of the city's most beautiful and picturesque public squares, since it was always open to the public, and, therefore, it was the city's business to keep it up.

"Meet the Wife" Here Wednseday, October 1

For the first time in this city Lynn Starling's new three-act comedy, "Meet the Wife," with Mabel Brownell in the star part will be presented at the Manring theatre on Wednesday, October 1.

Jules Hurtig, who gave a notable production to "Just Mraried" last season has surpassed it in the artistic settings of "Meet the Wife." The cast, includes names familiar to Broadway. The play was staged by Bert French last October, and while twenty-four plays had their openings in that month it remained for "Meet the Wife" with its fast movement, wholesome comedy to outlast all them and not bring its run to end until late in August.

The action takes place in a beautiful interior designated "Liberty Hall," which was designed a real live Gertrude Lennox for stage name-sake in "Meet the Wife," and contributes much to unmistakable success of the play and the players.
